Attention Property Owners

MCC to target top 100 defaulters

Mysuru, July 11 (RK&BCT)- Mounting Property Tax dues has forced the cash-strapped Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) to adopt stringent measures against defaulters and they are all set to knock your doors from July 16 in a Special Property Tax Collection Drive.

The civic body has warned those who are yet to pay their Property Tax dues to face the risk of having their properties seized (japthi) if they fail to do so. MCC is also in the process of listing the top 100 defaulters in each Zone and visit the properties from July 16 to recover dues.

Despite offering 5 percent rebate in April 2018-19 and a 2 percent interest-free exemption, only a part of property owners have paid their Property Tax. This has made the MCC to launch the special drive.

The 65 Wards come under nine Zones of MCC, which extends to an area of 128.42 sqkm, within which there are around 1.97 lakh properties including private and commercial ones. Of these, 47,041 property owners have not paid their taxes.

MCC Main Office

MCC Comr. Jagadeesha

Speaking to Star of Mysore this morning, MCC Revenue Officer Kumar Nayak said that the special drive will be launched from July 16 where the tax collection will be enforced.

"The drive will be held at all the nine Zones and first, we will make a list of 'top 100' defaulters and visit those properties where the highest amount is due. Later, the entire list will be covered. In all, there will be nine teams, each headed by a Zonal in-charge and the team will comprise a Nodal Officer, Zonal Officer, Revenue Inspector, Assistant Revenue Inspectors and MCC staff. If need be we will summon Abhaya teams to enforce rules," he said.

Special Tax Collection Drive from July 16

Mentioning that the MCC has put out newspaper advertisements asking the property owners to immediately pay their dues, Kumar Nayak said that no more notices will be issued. "No further notices will be issued. The newspaper advertisement released by the MCC Commissioner K.H. Jagadeesha is final and binding. As per the Municipal Act, we are authorised to visit properties and collect taxes and we also have powers to seize the properties. Those who make immediate payments will escape the action," he added.

If a property owner has to pay the tax now, the rebates of 5 percent and exemption of 2 percent will not apply. Instead, the property owner must pay 2 percent interest on the pending amount. This 2 percent has been calculated in the list of defaulters that the MCC has already prepared.

For the record, the MCC, in 2012-13 has collected Rs. 59.71 crore, in 2013-14 it has collected Rs. 66.25 crore as property tax. In 2014-15, it collected Rs. 75.14 crore and in 2015-16, the civic body collected Rs. 88.29 crore.

In 2016-17, it collected Rs. 94.25 crore and in 2017-18 (till September), it collected Rs. 76 crore. So far, the MCC has not been able to touch Rs. 100 crore mark in property tax collection.

Echo of hit-and-run accident

No more jolly ride on Chamundi Hill Road

Mysuru, July 11 (MTY&BCT)- Following the death of two youngsters atop the Chamundi Hill last week in a hit-and-run accident, the District Administration and the Police have banned jolly rides on the Hill Road. The ban has been enforced since the last three days and the number of youngsters, who come to the Hill on fun trips, have come down by 20 percent, said the Police.

Twenty-one-year-old M.C. Namana and Aravinda Rao of JSS College were killed atop Chamundi Hill on the night of July 5 when an SUV knocked down their bike near the Watch Tower Junction.

Disorderly development

A comparatively new breed of business players namely Realtors have arrived on the national scene, their activity presently confined to urban spaces. The term refers to a person who acts as an agent for the sale and purchase of buildings (and land) obviously for a living by grabbing his cut in the deal, leaving the seller with plush cash and the buyer with real estate. Old timers in Mysuru may recall such agents could be found operating in the city virtually unnoticed, unlike their counterparts of our times who are thriving like never before given their posh offices and glitzy advertisements to virtually draw people with ample cash to their net. A section among the realtors have come to be identified as developers whose rising presence cannot go unnoticed in most cities across the country, including Mysuru, where the government arm of this marauding sector goes by the name MUDA (Mysuru Urban Development Authority), with similar establishments in many other cities of Karnataka. The two terms realtor and developer have virtually become synonymous.

Development mantra being chanted by some of the Ministers both in the Union Government and Government of Karnataka, also has a long history of more than 11 decades with the then Mysore Government establishing the City Improvement Trust Board (CITB) in 1904, said to be one of the first ever such institution in the country. The mandate for the body consisted of planning new extensions and create modern civic amenities in the city. Notably, cash and graft didn't loom large in the business operations of CITB.

Given the relatively small number of residents in urban spaces at large, particularly Mysore of the early days of CITB, legend has it that people had to be coaxed to buy residential sites and build their own dwellings unlike the scenario of today in which the number of people seeking residential sites in different parts of the city from MUDA has outstripped the number of sites on offer many times over, resulting in manipulations of the kind and on a scale which are common knowledge. The handful of residential extensions that constitute Mysore of bygone days have expanded to the present 65-Ward geographical expanse, popularly perceived as development, forgetting the poor capacity of the civic body of the city to provide civic amenities and services that qualifies to be accepted as development.

While developers have caused a major change in the city's skyline and real estate is sought by people on an unprecedented scale, the rural areas are yet to figure in the country's and the State's development process. The head of the National Institute of Rural Development, speaking at a conference in city last week, has averred that rural development is not possible without education. Has education played its role in development of cities? is a question one is promoted to ask.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

One political leader who swept social media on International Yoga Day was not Prime Minister Narendra Modi who popularised it, but a former PM whose party managed to snatch victory from the jaws of defeat in the Karnataka Assembly polls in May: the 86-year-old H.D. Deve Gowda. While many Union Ministers and Chief Ministers tweeted their pictures performing pranayaam and other asanas, media crew in large numbers reached Gowda's residence in Bengaluru to capture him performing an asana lying on his bed. Former J&K Chief Minister Omar Abdullah gave away wishes of the day by tweeting a photograph; not his own, but that of Gowda's performance. — In Business Standard.

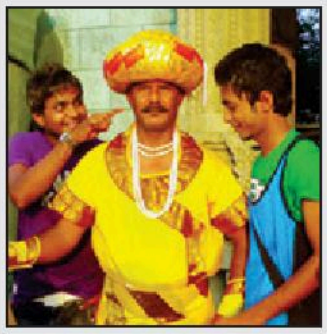
Indian man working as a statue for 32 years

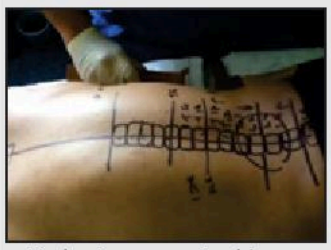


Chennai: 54-year-old Abdul Aziz has been working as a living statue for over thee decades, standing perfectly still for six hours a day and resisting people's attempts to make him move.

Known as "India's Statue Man", Aziz has been performing his daily routine since 1985 at the VGP Golden Beach Resort in Chennai. His boss had recently traveled to the UK, was so impressed by the statue-like Royal Guard outside Buckingham Palace. So he had his security guards undergo three months of training and Aziz got fit for the job.

What makes him Aziz special is the fact that he can do it for six hours without even blinking an eyelid, despite people's constant attempts to make him reveal his humanity but so far no one has been able to do it.

Hammering slipped spinal discs to fix them



Kuala Lumpur: A chiropractor in Malaysia has been fixing slipped by knocking it back into position with a hammer.

Md Rosdi Hasan has a very unconventional way of dealing with slipped discs and back pain in general. Instead of relying on MRIs or X-rays to diagnose his patients' back problems, he just uses his fingers to check if all the bones and vertebrae are in the right place, and draws a diagram of all the discs directly on the back of his patients, with a black marker. Once he learns everything he needs to know, Hasan grabs a hammer and a piece of wood and starts knocking the discs back into place.

He claims no one has ever had any problems after his treatment. In fact, he is so proud of his method that he regularly posts videos of his "spinal tap" routine on his Facebook page. Some of them have tens of thousands of views, and despite the obvious joke comments, some people actually believe he can fix their spine problems.

A Mysurean's tryst with Kodagu

Sir,

I should consider it treason on my part if I don't respond now to KBG's Abracadabra titled "Will Kodagu, heaven on earth, cease to exist ?" (SOM dated June 23). Yes, I consider Kodagu my second homeland, if KBG calls Mysuru his homeland.

Ever since KBG advised me to go to Tadiyandamol in 1984 to enjoy a good trekking experience, my tryst with the land has been, probably, more significant than that of anybody else living outside Kodagu. During the first six years thereon (1984), one could find me wandering around seldom tread remotest and wildest paths of the district, along with my students. During 1990 and 1995 people could very regularly find me around Talacauvery, measuring rainfall and monitoring flows in small streams, including Cauvery and Kannike at their origin, and developing theories on 'Pipeflow' for my Ph.D.

Later, for about a decade, one could find my students working on data we collected from the region and me coming out with significant publications telling the world about the thrills of my work in the Western Ghats. Ever since I was awarded a Funded Project by ISRO in 2006, my association with Kodagu started expanding in multiples. Innumerable number of our (NIE) students started getting benefited from the project, and enjoyed working in the wet areas of the Watershed of Kumaradhara, which originates on the eastern slopes of Pushpagiri.

We instrumented streams, installed rain gauges and collected precious data. The project culminated in me setting up a very unique "Field Hydrological Laboratory" which now caters to teaching PG students of NIE practical Hydrology. The Annual Survey Camp for UG students was also being held for a few years in Garwale, exposing students to real-life problems.

Recently, I have got funds to the tune of Rs. 30 lakh from MoES, for continuing my work in Kodagu — this means I can work with freedom in the Ghats till my retirement from service at NIE. I hope, people will understand how formidable my emotional attachment with Kodagu is.

For this very reason, I oppose all forces working towards the fall of Kodagu. I assure you that my 'alilu seve' continues to be available for purposes that will do good to Kodagu. To add to my earlier write-ups, I now have a point to emphasise on.

During the over seven decades of independence and democratic rule in the country, very sadly, Kodagu has had the opportunity of sending only one of its own sons to the Parliament. People of Kodagu have cast votes 16 times and have seen their representative (C.M. Poonacha) becoming an MP only once. During the last four decades, which I have seen, no MP has ever done anything favourable to Kodagu, except for shedding crocodile tears. Hence, I strongly feel that the people of Kodagu take up the challenge of installing their own representative.

A true representative of the people is of utmost importance in shaping political decisions and a strong lobby which alone can bear fruits. No doubt that a long-lasting battle is required to achieve this goal.

Soon, travel from Mysuru to Bengaluru in just 90 minutes

H.D. Revanna

Bengaluru, July 11 (KMS& BCT)- Public Works Department (PWD) Minister H.D. Revanna yesterday said that the State Government had acquired 64 percent of the land required for the 10-lane Bengaluru-Mysuru Expressway project. The project, once completed, is expected to cut travel time between Bengaluru and Mysuru to 90 minutes from an average three-and-a-half hours.

Replying to MLC Sandesh Nagaraj's question in the Legislative Council, Revanna said the government will expedite the process of acquiring the remaining 36 percent of the land for the project.

Revanna said that the work has begun from both sides of Bengaluru and Mysuru with line markings where the road will come up. Actual ground work might start after a few weeks. This will be a 10-lane road with a 6-lane carriageway that is tolled while there will be a 2-lane service road on both sides without toll. Toll booths will be set up at Bidadi, Ramanagaram, Channapattana, Maddur, Mandya and Srirangapatna. Users will have to pay only for the distance travelled rather than paying for the entire stretch.

The project is scheduled to be completed in 2020 — that means, the project will be completed in the next 18 months. The project was approved in April 2014 and Union Minister Nitin Gadkari had launched it in March this year. The road will have flyovers at Bidadi and Srirangapatna, bypasses at Ramanagaram, Channapattana and Mandya. The total estimated cost for the 117-km road is Rs. 6,400 crore of which Rs. 2,246.71 crore is for land acquisition. The National Highways Authority of India is acquiring 2,200 acres of land for the road.

"The government is also working towards obtaining forest clearances by the next fortnight. It has also been decided to hold monthly review meetings on the progress of the project. The Energy Department was seeking 15 percent of the total project cost for shifting utilities while the NHAI specified that the cost should not exceed more than 2.5 percent of the project cost," Revanna said.

The work has been divided into two packages — Bengaluru-Nidaghatta (56 km) with an estimated cost of Rs. 1,984 crore and Nidaghatta-Mysuru (61 km) with an estimated cost of Rs. 2,169.29 crore, he said. There will be 50:50 cost-sharing formula between the Centre and the State for the project.

Once completed, the road will be the first in the State to be developed under the new Hybrid Annuity Mode (HAM) adopted by NHAI. As per this, NHAI will fund just 40 per cent of the total project cost while the remaining 60 per cent will be invested by the contractor or developer. The contractor/investor will get fixed annual revenue while the Highway Authority takes care of the toll collection.

CM orders to release Cauvery water to TN

KRS water level touches 115 feet with inflow of 35,698 cusecs

Kumaraswamy

Mysuru, July 11 (UNI)- As the water level in reservoirs built across River Cauvery is increasing rapidly and reaching maximum level due to copious rains in the catchment areas of Kodagu, Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy has ordered the release of water to Tamil Nadu.

This is for the first time after a gap of four years the water levels in the reservoirs are reaching maximum level as rain continued to lash the catchment areas. The water level has reached 115.20 feet (on Wednesday at 8 am) in KRS near Srirangapatna in Mandya district against its full level of 124.80 feet and the inflow is recorded at 35,698 cusecs. There is an outflow of 3,658 cusecs.

The authorities are hopeful that the reservoir would reach the full level this year. The last time it happened was in 2013.

Torrential rains are lashing Kodagu district since last three days. Bhagamandala, the birth place of River Cauvery and surrounding regions are bringing heavy inflow into the dam, said Irrigation Department officials.

The water level in KRS on the corresponding day last year was 78.70 ft. and the inflow was 4,051 cusecs. The inflow would be minimum 30,000 cusecs for the next 72 hours as the catchment areas have been receiving good rains.

The inflow recorded was 44,000 cusecs and outflow 43,000 cusecs. The water level is 2282.22 feet against the full capacity of 2284 feet.

It may be recalled that SOM had carried a news item titled "Subway on Sayyaji Rao Road in dangerous condition" on July 2.

MCC took up the work the very next day after the MCC Commissioner K.H. Jagadeesha, Deputy Mayor Indira Mahesh, MCC Executive Engineer Jadhav, Vani Vilas Water Works Executive Engineer Anand and Development officer visited the spot.

The ugly, unimaginative and rarely used subway built here was lying in a dangerous condition. The MCC Commissioner, following a hue and cry by the public, had promised to open the subway for the public soon.

Accordingly, the water logging in the subway has been cleared though there are still some reminiscent of it, the leaking pipes have been repaired and the whole place cleaned.

A security guard Mahadevappa has also been deputed at the place to see that anti-social elements do not harass the public. The pedestrians now are using the subway.

The only issue is that the MCC authorities must see to it that the subway is always maintained in a clean and proper manner so that people can use it safely.

Otherwise, the purpose for which it is built is defeated, as had been seen before with the officials turning a blind eye to the problems in spite of repeated complaints personally and through the media.

In this week's Pet Talk, Maneka speaks about roosting habits in pigeons and explains about butterfly activities

Pet Talk

Maneka Gandhi

Why do pigeons roost on roof or in gutters?

Pigeons like comfortable sunny places that are safe from predators and the elements with plenty of food and water available. The nests are built of twigs but quickly become so covered in droppings that they look like a big pile of waste. When the babies are born, they are a dull brown and are perfectly camouflaged in the nest when they are still. Gutters are dish-shaped and provide great nesting sites that securely hold the nests. Pigeons nest and roost on, and in, houses because it gives them a good view of nearby feeding areas or because they have gained access to the interior of the building. They usually access buildings through broken windows, missing or loose vents or any other small gap or opening. Pigeons also like high places because they are able to keep a close watch on things and spot predators. Pigeons are social birds and each flock works as a team. Someone always has an eye out for danger.

Where do pigeons normally live?

Pigeons live in every part of the world but the North and South Poles. They started out as pets, but through accidental, or intentional, release have developed into perhaps the most common feral bird. Originally they liked places with lots of grain, like farms, especially when they are near areas with good nesting sites in high and inaccessible places, like cliffs or buildings. Once known as "rock doves," pigeons live anywhere there is adequate food and shelter and are common in most urban and suburban areas. Stadiums and fast-food restaurants, parks and bridges, airports and schools - all are common pigeon environments.

What is the lifespan of a butterfly?

An adult butterfly probably has an average life-span of approximately one month. In the wild, most butterflies' lives are shorter than this because of predators, disease, and large objects, such as automobiles. The smallest butterflies may live only a week or so, while a few butterflies, such as Monarchs, Mourning Cloaks and Tropical Heliconians, can live up to nine months.

How do butterflies survive the winters?

In areas where temperatures drop below freezing during part of the winter, at least one stage in a butterfly species' life cycle must be resistant to freezing if the species is resident. Most butterflies that live in cold climates spend the winter as caterpillars, while almost as many spend the winter as pupas. A few species, mainly Tortoiseshells (Nymphalis) and Angelwings (Polygonia), spend the winter as adults, hibernating in holes in trees, in crevices in man-made structures, or in other shelters. A very few species spend the winter as eggs.

What do butterflies eat?

Most adult butterflies drink nectar from flowers through their tongues, which function much like straws. A minority of butterflies almost never visits flowers, instead gaining sustenance from tree sap, rotting animal matter, and other organic material.

Butterfly caterpillars almost all eat plant matter. Most caterpillars eat leaves, but some species eat seeds and seed pods, while others specialize on flowers. Most species will eat only a small group of related plant species -- for example Pearl Crescent caterpillars will eat species of asters. Some species, such as Gray Hairstreaks, will eat a wide variety of plants, and some will eat only a single plant species.

Where do butterflies lay their eggs?

Most butterflies lay their eggs on plants that will be eaten by the caterpillar, when it hatches. Some species lay their eggs on the tops of leafs, some on the bottom, some at the leaf axils, some on flowers, and some on stalks.

Do butterflies migrate?

Yes, butterflies do migrate. The long-distance migration can be attributed to a combination of climatic factors, food availability and breeding habitat preferences.

Why do butterflies taste with their feet?

Butterflies taste with their feet as their taste sensors are located there. They can taste it by just standing on their food. They don't have mouths that allow them to bite or chew, instead they have a long straw-like structure, called a proboscis, which they use to drink nectar and juices.

How can you distinguish between male and female butterflies?

The colour pattern on the upper wing (dorsal) surfaces often differs in many species of butterflies. For example, in species of Blues, the male's dorsal wing colour is often bright blue, whereas that of females has lots of brown. Another good way to tell the difference between male and female butterflies is by behaviour. Males are often perching, or patrolling, in search of females, and females spend a lot time searching for plants on which to lay their eggs. The final and definitive way is to examine the abdomen. Females tend to have rounder abdomens. Males have a slit at the tip, and females have a round hole where the eggs are laid.

Do butterfly caterpillars sting?

No butterfly or moth possess the capability to inflict a sting.

Are butterflies poisonous?

Yes, some species of butterflies are poisonous. Most butterflies that are poisonous are orange in colour. It is a warning to other animals not to eat them. Some species that are not poisonous are also orange though, this is called batesian mimicry, and they use the warning colours to discourage predators, even though they themselves are not poisonous.

Who are earthworm enemies?

The earthworm has many enemies, including mites, ants, centipedes, earwigs, nematodes, fly larvae, termites, springtails, sowbugs, snails, slugs, millipedes, spiders, birds, rats, mice, moles, gophers, toads and snakes.

Why do cockroaches turn over when they die?

Their bulky bodies are composed of three heavy body segments which are only supported by six long, thin legs. As they die they lose muscle control, causing the leg muscles to contract. As a result, the legs are pulled beneath the body, causing them to lose their balance and topple over onto their backs. This also explains why cockroaches on the wall fall off when they get sprayed with insecticides.

Judge delivers speedy verdict one after another

Chitradurga District Judge sentences two men to life imprisonment just days after they commit murder

Chitradurga, July 11- At a time when lakhs of cases are pending at various Courts in India and at a time when there is an urgent need of speedy delivery of justice, here is a ray of hope. Chitradurga District Judge has created a record of sorts by delivering Judgements just days after a criminal has committed a crime.

S.B. Vastramath

Judge S.B. Vastramath has come in for praises from his fellow Judges and also the advocate community for sentencing a man to life imprisonment just 13 days after the man murdered his 65-year-old wife. Vastramath also sentenced 28-year-old Sridhar for bludgeoning his wife Sakamma (26) suspecting her fidelity.

Sridhar was produced before the District and Sessions Court by the Police and Judge Vastramath pronounced Sridhar guilty on July 10. The Judge relied upon the evidence given by Sridhar's three-and-a-half-year-old son.

On July 7, Vastramath had sentenced a 75-year-old man to life imprisonment just 11 days after the latter murdered his 65-year-old wife. Last year, the Judge was in the news when he ordered a compensation of Rs. 1.14 crore to the families of 14 people killed in an accident in Molakalmuru in Chitradurga district in just 18 days. This case is said to be the fastest judgement in a motor vehicle accident case in the country.

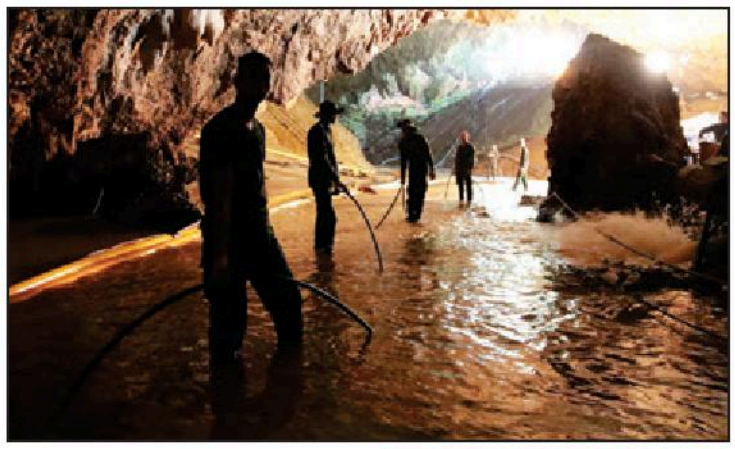
While serving in Molakalmuru's Magistrate Court, Vastramath was appreciated for the speedy verdicts delivered. He won 72 points against the target of 10 under a system to evaluate Judges. One point is awarded for each judgement, which means Vastramath delivered 72 judgements though his target was 10.

Vastramath believes that speedy justice by the Courts is the need of the hour. "It's more so in the case of criminal justice as it helps maintain societal harmony," he said. The 54-year-old Judge, who is also known to be a socially committed person, takes keen interest in environment and conservation, and students' welfare.

On his most memorable judgement, Vastramath said awarding death penalty to three men accused of rape and torture of a woman in Kolar was a momentous one. "It was the statement given by the rape victim who survived for six months that played a key role in the judgement," he said. Another landmark in his career, he said, was awarding life imprisonment to three accused of murder in Magadi Kere (Chikkamagalur district).

'MISSION ACCOMPLISHED'

12 boys, coach rescued from Thailand Cave



Chiang Rai, Thailand, July 11 (UNI)- Thais reacted with relief, gratitude and exhilaration today after the successful rescue of the last group of 12 boys and their soccer coach from a flooded cave complex, ending a 17-day ordeal that gripped Thailand and the world.

The last members of the group of 13 from the "Wild Boars" soccer team were brought out of the flooded cave on Tuesday night and taken by helicopter and then by road to a hospital about 70 km (45 miles) from the Tham Luang cave.

They joined their team mates in quarantine there and will remain in hospital. The group was rescued after 17 days inside the vast cave complex in northern Thailand where they had ventured after soccer practice on June 23.

Eight boys were brought out on stretchers over the first two days — four on Sunday and four on Monday.

The youngsters and their coach got trapped while exploring the cave in the northern province of Chiang Rai after soccer practice, when a rainy season downpour flooded the tunnels. British divers found the 13, hungry and huddled in darkness on a muddy bank in a partly flooded chamber several kilometres inside the complex, on Monday last week.

Saman Gunan, the deceased diver.

Nineteen divers entered the Tham Luang cave in northern Thailand on a gruelling, hazardous mission to rescue those people still trapped inside. The epic operation, however, was marred by one diver's death. Saman Gunan, a former Navy Seal diver, is the one who died while taking part in the rescue mission as a volunteer.

The rescue operation could have been a disaster with water pumps draining the area failing just hours after the last boy had been evacuated. Divers and rescue workers were still more than 1.5km inside the cave clearing up equipment when the main pump failed, leading water levels to rapidly increase, three Australian divers involved in the operation said.

Residents Welfare Association holds tree-planting drive

Mysuru, July 11- The Vijayanagar First Stage Residents Welfare Association, in collaboration with Rotary Mysore North and the Forest Department, had organised a tree-planting drive at Kannada Sahitya Parishat Bhavan premises in Vijayanagar first stage last Sunday.

Chief Conservator of Forests Karunakaran was the chief guest. Mosquito control and eradication expert Dr. Somashekar Gowda, Rtn. Mallaraje Urs, Rtn. Nanjaiah, who is also the President of the Association and others were present.

In the evening, the first anniversary of the Yoga Mantapa inside the Park in front of Sri Yoganarasimhaswamy Temple was celebrated. The 40X40 gazebo (a pavilion structure, sometimes octagonal or turret-shaped, often built in a park, garden or spacious public area) has been built at a cost of Rs. 10 lakh. MCC had sanctioned Rs. 5 lakh and the then Chamaraja MLA Vasu had sanctioned Rs. 5 lakh from the MLA funds.

The programme was inaugurated by Mysuru Vivekananda Yoga Education and Research Institute Hon. President Dr. A.N. Ganesh Kumar. Students performed yoga under the leadership of yoga teacher P.M.S. Gowda and International Yoga Champion Khushi. Students of the Institute gave an excellent demo on various asanas.

In the evening, a mosquito eradication programme was held where Dr. Somashekar Gowda gave a demonstration on mosquito eradication by letting larvae-eating fish into the tanks at the park premises.

He suggested the residents near different parks to release fish-eating larvae into water bodies or small water tanks to control mosquito menace.

On the occasion, Gopalaswamy and family gave a cash prize of Rs. 5,000 to Khushi and donated Rs. 60,000 to Jayanath, son of Shivaram, to pursue his engineering studies.

RSS Vs Seva Dal

2019 Parliamentary Elections

Seva Dal

RSS

Mohan Bhagwat
RSS Chief

Lalji Desai
Seva Dal

Whoever said imitation is the best form of flattery? I must give a prize to that man. That was what I felt when I read a newspaper headline yesterday reading, "Seva Dal gets set to counter RSS." Sure, RSS must have felt immensely flattered that it is on the right track with its philosophy of Nationalism and Patriotism. Of course, minus the idea of Akhand Bharat. Nehru was opposed to this idea of Syama Prasad Mukherjee of Jan Sangh and quickly brought in an amendment to the Constitution affirming the good and friendly relations with our neighbouring country. Now neither that Jan Sangh is in existence nor do we hear about the demand for an Akhand Bharat. Let it be.

Why did Congress suddenly remember the potential of Seva Dal to revive it, nay make it active from its present dormant state, after 95 years of its twin-like existence with the Congress? It is crystal clear that the Congress is afraid of facing the BJP in the 2019 Lok Sabha Elections even as a partner with the other Opposition parties — the Mahaghatbandhan — without support from its "subsidiary" organisation Seva Dal.

This is because, the Congress thinks the major cause for BJP's success is the backing it gets from the RSS, the originator of BJP. However, in the case of Seva Dal, it is the Congress which is the originator. Here is the difference. Therefore, Seva Dal cannot be half as effective for the Congress as the RSS is for BJP in the Lok Sabha elections.

Game plan of the Congress is to form a "Young Brigade" as a wing of Seva Dal which would take up social service like the RSS in times of distress and natural calamities as also to counter the philosophy of RSS by propagating the philosophy of the Congress about Nationalism based on Secularism, Tolerance and Pluralism.

Well, but RSS also claims the same philosophy except it calls the Secularism practised by the Congress as pseudo-Secularism. RSS openly claims to be tolerant towards non-Hindus accepting the pluralistic character of our Indian society. So where does the new revived and revitalised Seva Dal go from here to counter RSS in the coming Lok Sabha Elections. Not very far I guess.

Interestingly, the Seva Dal in its new avatar will have a dress code of Royal Blue Jeans, white T-Shirt and a Cap, Gandhi cap, I hope. RSS too has undergone a transformation with its sartorial code by replacing the Chaddi (shorts) with Pants. Well, here Seva Dal seems to have adopted itself to the mod sartorial preference of the young with Jeans while RSS has the baggy pants. In a way, this dress code is significant because it has a message. Congress is modern in outlook, while BJP is conservative. Which is why youngsters generally toe the Congress line.

Lalji Desai, Chief Organiser of Seva Dal, All India Congress Seva Dal, told the press that the organisation will expand its functions from its present activity of managing Congress events. More to make its existence known rather than to create an impact. Interestingly, he said that there will be "no saluting the party leaders. Our salute is only reserved for the National Flag." And, of course, to Soniaji and Rahulji ! Let me hasten to say Lalji Desai did not say this. Anyway, on the contrary RSS salutes the saffron coloured Bhagavad Dwaja.

The imitation of RSS Shakha meeting is seen in the revised programme of Seva Dal. It will soon organise flag hoisting events on the last Sunday of every month, for now, in 1,000 places. This is called 'Dhwaja Vandana', on the lines similar to that of RSS. The difference seems to be in what they discuss in this programme. RSS Shakha may or may not discuss the philosophy of its founder Dr. K. B. Hedgewar and other heads like Deendayal Upadhyay and Guruji M.S. Golwalkar.

However, Congress Seva Dal will discuss the principles of Mahatma Gandhi and Jawaharlal Nehru. And Seva Dal volunteers may have to carry the message to the people in preparation to the Parliamentary Elections. Congress thinks, if RSS is the mascot for BJP's victory, why not convert Seva Dal into a mascot for Congress and win? Good idea on the table, but on the ground? There is a cutting-edge difference between a Desh Bhakt and Gandhi Bhakt. BJP is the beneficiary of this difference in all the elections it is winning, according to a political pundit.

The "Bharat tere tukde honge, Inshallah, Inshallah" [India, you will be broken into pieces. God willing. God willing] agitation at the JNU, Delhi, on Feb. 9, 2016 during the commemoration of Afzal Guru's hanging might have been forgotten by the voters by now and it would not have had any effect on Congress votes.

Unfortunately for Congress the then Vice-President of Congress and now President Rahul Gandhi went to JNU on the occasion which is perceived by the voters as Congress support to such anti-national agitation. In 2019, BJP and RSS are bound to remind the voters about Rahul's visit.

So it is RSS Vs Seva Dal in 2019 Parliamentary Elections. With this strategy, will the Congress get more than 44 seats it has now and save its face among its coalition partners now in the Opposition? A million dollar question indeed.

Jeweller sends WhatsApp video to wife, goes missing

Sukhlal

Mysuru, July 11 (HDR&BCT)- A textile and jewellery trader from Periyapatna taluk has gone missing after sending a video message on WhatsApp to his wife on July 8. A missing complaint has been lodged by his wife at Periyapatna Police Station. According to the complaint filed by Sunitha, her husband 38-year-old Sukhlal alias Suresh was running Parveen Textiles and Jewels at Ravandur near Periyapatna.

On July 7, Sukhlal told Sunitha that he had to go to Mysuru to attend a Court matter and left home at around 8 am. She told the Police that on the same day, she had called her husband in the afternoon and he told her that he was in the Court.

Sunitha told the Police that her husband failed to return home on that day and the next day, she desperately searched for him at relatives' places but failed to trace him.

"On July 8, at about 4 pm, my husband sent a video message through WhatsApp and told me that he owed Rs. 11 lakh to one Swamy Master and that Master had staked claim on his shop and godown and also had promised to give my husband the remaining money after deducting the amount due to him. However, he had failed to keep the promise," she stated in her complaint.

"My husband told me that I should leave my children to orphanage," Sunitha has stated in her complaint. Sunitha has four children. While the oldest is 10 years old, the youngest is just a year old. The other two are aged nine and six years respectively.

No more jolly ride on Ch. Hill Road

In the wake of this incident, the Police are now allowing only devotees to the top of the Hill and are preventing the entry of students and youth who come there on jolly trips. A vehicle checking point has been set up at Tavarekatte for this purpose.

It may be recalled here that the District Administration had banned entry to Chamundi Hill after 10 pm and after the ban was implemented in May 2017, jolly night rides on two-wheelers and four-wheelers up to the Hill were curbed. As a step further, those vehicles that proceed up the Hill will now have to undergo checks at Tavarekatte before proceeding up the Hill till 10 pm.

According to the Police, a number of youths come to the Hill after 5 pm and the crowd increases between 6 pm and 8 pm. Most of the youths, a majority of them students at various city colleges and PG accommodations, come in two-wheelers and park their vehicles near the View Points and near the designated parking areas at the Temple.

"While only a few of them go to the temple, most of the youngsters just while away time and indulge in smoking and drinking. They ride their bikes irresponsibly and put their lives under risk. They alight from the Hill with their vehicle engines and headlights switched off and this leads to accidents as the oncoming vehicle cannot see the approaching bikes," said N. Muniyappa, Siddarthanagar Traffic Inspector.

Speaking to Star of Mysore, Muniyappa said that they had received many complaints regarding the youths misbehaving with fellow visitors. "The inhabitants of the Hill, fed up with the illegal activities and the disturbance created due to drinking, dancing and other unlawful activities had complained to the administration to put a halt to such activities. "We will not take the issue lightly anymore and have intensified the checks from 5 pm to 10 pm," he added.

The ban on jolly rides has made a good impact. Muniyappa said that ever since the ban has been enforced, there is a drastic decline in the number of youths who come in bikes and four-wheelers atop the Hill. "We hope that the accident rates will also come down," he said.

Passersby were seen filming accident while victim was dragged up to 150 feet !

Aravinda

Namana

On the fateful night of July 5, the Hyundai Creta vehicle that collided against the bike on which Aravinda Rao and M.C. Namana were riding dragged Aravinda Rao up to 150 feet. Police said that no one came to the rescue of the victims.

The Police, who are making their best efforts to trace the killer vehicle, told SOM that the speeding SUV rammed against the bullet bike driven by Aravinda Rao. Both Namana and Aravinda Rao fell from the bike and the latter was caught in the wheels of the SUV. "The vehicle dragged Aravinda Rao up to 150 feet. Later, the SUV driver got down the vehicle and separated Aravinda Rao from the wheels, pushed him to a side and sped away," said N. Muniyappa, Siddarthanagar Traffic Inspector.

"Our investigations have revealed that many people were a witness to the accident and none of them came forward to the help of Aravinda Rao and Namana. While they let the SUV driver escape without informing the Police, some of them were callously filming the accident on their mobile phones," he said.

A Police team had to come all the way from Siddarthanagar Traffic Station to rush the victims to the hospital, Muniyappa said and appealed to the public to come to the rescue of such accident victims and rush them to hospital so that lives can be saved.

Take back decision to withhold teachers' salaries for poor SSLC results

Mysuru, July 11 (MTY&NNN)- The government should take back the decision of withholding salaries of high school teachers due to poor results in the SSLC examination in the districts and instead make efforts to improve the quality of education, urged All Karnataka Teachers' Federation State President K.C. Puttasiddashetty.

He was addressing a press meet at Pathrakartara Bhavan here recently and said that the State Government has come forward to withhold the salaries of teachers holding them responsible for not showing good results. This is an unscientific decision. This step is causing problems to the teachers.

Last year Mysuru District was placed 17th in the State and this year it has improved and now stands at 11. Next year, as the DDPI has intended the teachers have promised to work hard and see that the district is placed in top five in the State. In the light of this, the decision to withhold the salaries must be taken back, he said.

All necessary steps should be taken to improve the SSLC results. The announcement made by the Primary and Secondary Education Minister with regard to changing the examination pattern by introducing open book system is welcome. This move would result in students becoming creative, he said.

Puttasiddashetty said that the practise of appointing guest teachers must stop and instead permanent teachers must be appointed immediately. Otherwise, an agitation will be launched in front of the Law Courts near the bust of Mahatma Gandhi, he warned.

All Karnataka Teachers' Federation District President K. Shivanna, Vice-President S.K. Nanjappa, General Secretary S. Dasappa Shetty, Organising Secretary C.S. Vasudevamurthy and Lokesh were present.

Tulasidas Hospital to be remodelled at cost of Rs.20 crore: MLA

Mysuru, July 11 (RKB&DM)- KR MLA S.A. Ramdas has said that Tulasidas Hospital at Srinivasa Circle will be remodelled at a cost of Rs.20 crore out of Central Government funds.

Speaking after visiting the hospital recently, Ramdas said that the hospital will be re-built with a floor area of over 4,800 sq.mts and the contractor has been directed to complete the works in two years.

Recalling that Tulasidas had donated the land for construction of a maternity hospital, the MLA said that at present, most of the patients visiting the hospital were from economically backward sections of the society.

Stating that there were plans to remodel this hospital when Jayadeva Hospital was coming up in the city, Ramdas said that somehow the plan did not take shape then. But now, he was delighted to see that the project is taking off from Central Government funds, he said.

Ramdas directed the officials to take necessary measures for installation of Tulasidas' statue at Srinivasa Circle (Five Lights Circle). Earlier, Ramdas who inspected the hospital building, discussed with the officials, the shifting of patients.

The MLA also discussed the possibility of shifting the patients to Cheluvamba Hospital and on the alternative arrangements to be made for the visit of the patients, once the construction of the new building starts. He also instructed the DHO to ensure that the patients visiting the hospital are not inconvenienced.

Corporator Manjunath, DHO Dr. B. Basavaraju and BJP leader Somashekar were present.

Sriramulu lashes out at Budget

MLA B. Sriramulu is seen felicitating Seer Arjun Guruji of Avadootha Datta Peetham in city recently.

Mysuru, July 11 (SPN&DM)- Claiming that the budget presented by Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy was lopsided and fraught with regional disparity, senior BJP leader and MLA B. Sriramulu has said that this may lead to cries for a separate North Karnataka State.

Speaking after meeting Seer Arjun Guruji of Avadootha Datta Peetham on Sonar Street off N.S. Road here recently, Sriramulu predicted that the JD(S)-Congress alliance will not last beyond the 2019 Lok Sabha Polls.

Charging that the budget had neglected North Karnataka and coastal districts, which voted for BJP in the Assembly polls, he accused Kumaraswamy of deliberately refusing to roll out programmes for these areas.

Alleging that the budget was meant only for Hassan, Mandya and Ramanagaram districts, Sriramulu said that this budget has instigated the demand for a separate North Karnataka State.

On the tie-up between the Congress and the JD(S) for the 2019 Lok Sabha Polls, he said Prime Minister Narendra Modi's charisma would conquer all.

Maintaining that the Coalition Government had failed to keep its promise in its very first budget, the MLA said that it had lost the confidence of the people.

Clarifying that he would not contest next year's Lok Sabha polls, he said that, however, he will tour the entire State and campaign for the BJP candidates and added that he was sure that the NDA headed by PM Modi would return to power.

Predicting that the Coalition Govt. may fall anytime, he said that the BJP being single largest party with 104 seats would come to power again in the State.

City BJP President Dr. B.H. Manjunath, leaders Jogi Manju, Gokul, Sharath and others were present.

Meanwhile Sriramulu's meeting with Seer Arjun Guruji that lasted for about 30 minutes, has assumed significance even as Joint Session of the State Legislature is underway at Bengaluru.

Modi Government failed to implement GST properly

Regrets Parliamentary Standing Committee on Finance Chairman Veerappa Moily

Mysuru, July 11 (YDS&NNN)- A report on various issues including banking reforms, pros and cons of GST and on functioning of RBI will be presented in forthcoming Session of the Parliament, said Parliamentary Standing Committee on Finance Chairman Veerappa Moily.

He was speaking at a press conference organised at a private hotel in city yesterday and said that the previous UPA Government had the idea of GST as one nation, one tax and it could have been implemented in a transparent manner. However, Prime Minister Narendra Modi has not implemented it properly.

Businesses hit: Due to Goods and Service Tax (GST) there are allegations that the micro, small and medium industries are hit. Job creation has suffered. Even the banking sector has failed to discharge its duties properly. A situation has arisen where they are finding it difficult to lend loans. All these issues will be discussed in the Parliamentary Committee meeting being held in city, he said.

Centre should waive farmers' loans: It is the responsibility of the Central Government to waive off the farmers' loans. If the State Government waives it, it will not be of much use to the farmers. In the past the then Prime Minister Dr. Manmohan Singh had waived off farmers' loans. This had not affected the economy of the country or even the banks. However, in the present context, the Central Government is trying to waive the loans of the industrialists. The big industries who have borrowed heavily from the banks are not repaying and such loans are being converted into NPAs (Non Performing Assets) and they are getting the benefit of nearly 82 percent loan waiver, said Moily.

The RBI (Reserve Bank of India) plays a vital role in keeping the economy buoyant. However, after demonetisation, its role has suffered. This resulted in the GDP (Gross Domestic Product) of the country going down from between 2 percent to 4 percent. The previous RBI Governor had felt that to recover from this blow at least two years is needed, recalled Moily.

Precautions must be taken: On the Congress-JD(S) coalition government in the State, he said that as the days progress many problems are likely to be resolved. The programmes implemented by Siddharamaiah government must be continued as it is. The Coordination Committee must take care to see that the Congress party is not affected by the coalition government, he said.

Narendra Modi's call for simultaneous elections of Lok Sabha and Assembly is nothing but political opportunism. Even the first Prime Minister of the country Jawaharlal Nehru had held simultaneous elections. But following later developments it became difficult to hold them simultaneously. However, our opposition is not to simultaneous elections but to political opportunism, he clearly stated.

Meetings in 3 districts: The Parliamentary Standing Committee meeting will be held on July 11 and 12 in Mysuru district and matters related to RBI laws and banking reforms will be discussed. The Committee will move to Kodagu district where they will discuss about cash crops like coffee, pepper and Cardamom. In the remaining two days, the panel will meet in Mangaluru to discuss about airport expansion, tax, national highway and harbour, he said.

Best Standing Committee: Our Standing Committee is declared the best one among the various Standing Committees. Till now, the Finance Standing Committee has presented 61 reports. The government has looked into it and implemented a few changes. Our Standing Committee reports cannot be brushed aside, he said.

Former MLA Vasu was present at the press conference.

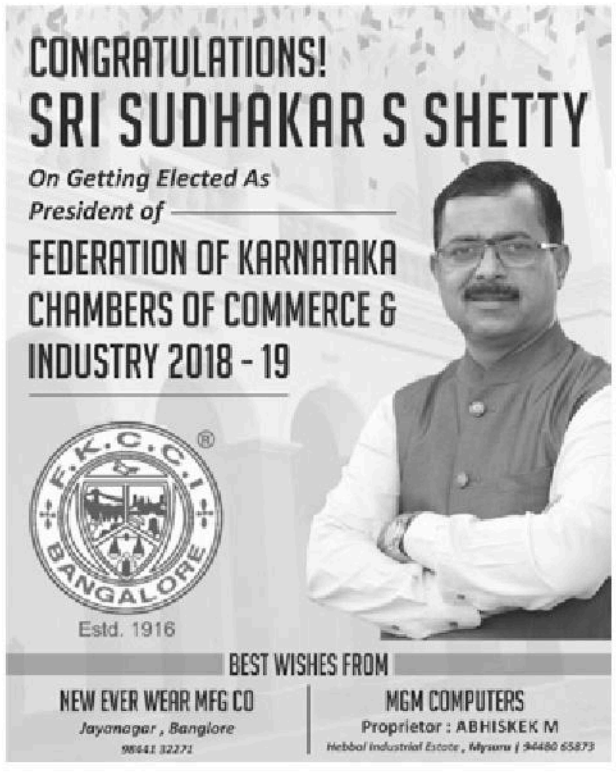
Bengaluru, July 11- Medical Education Minister D.K. Shivakumar has said that more than a hundred vacant posts in Chamarajanagar District Hospital, which include specialist doctors, staff nurses, paramedical staff and Group-D employees will be filled up soon.

Replying to a question by MLC Sandesh Nagaraj at the Legislative Council here on July 9, Shivakumar said that the hospital has 22 wards with 345 beds. Stating that a 450-bed new hospital will be constructed for Chamarajanagar Medical College, the Minister said Rs.30 crore has been sanctioned for the hospital and tenders have been invited for the construction of the building.

Shivakumar further said that he would visit the hospital along with the District in-Charge Minister and will take measures for addressing the problems.



WORD OF THE DAY

Transmogrify

Pronunciation: transs-MAH-gruh-fye (verb).
Meaning: To change or alter greatly and often with grotesque or humorous effect.
Origin: We know that the prefix trans- means "across" or "beyond" and appears in many words that evoke change, such as transform and transpire, but we don't know the exact origins of transmogrify. The 17th-century dramatist, novelist, and poet Aphra Behn, who is regarded as England's first female professional writer, was an early adopter of the word. In her 1671 comic play The Amorous Prince, Behn wrote, "I wou'd Love would transmogriphy me to a maid now." A century later, Scottish poet Robert Burns plied the word again in verse, aptly capturing the grotesque and sometimes humorous effect of transmogrification: "See Social life and Glee sit down, All joyous and unthinking, Till, quite transmugrify'd, they're grown Debauchery and Drinking...."
Examples: "It hadn't been cleaned in more than two years and the captured leaves had transmogrified into a wonderfully fecund compost."
— Frank Mulligan, The Leader (Corning, New York), 8 Aug. 2014.
"He was present in 1917 when communists shot their way to power and Imperial Russia transmogrified into the Soviet Union." — Colin Nickerson, The Boston Globe.

THE ODD WORD

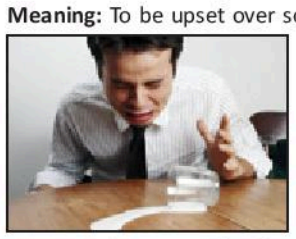
Douceur

A financial inducement; a bribe.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Cry over spilled milk

Meaning: To be upset over something that cannot be fixed, often something minor.



Origin: The phrase is quite an old one but the origin is not very clear. In its present form, it has been in use since the late 1800s.
Examples: While its sad that the results have not been as good as you expected, you should now focus on moving ahead and achieving better results next time; there is no use crying over spilt milk.
"Its no use crying over spilt milk – it was a bad investment, the money has been lost and there's nothing we can do."

QUOTE BOX

A man who dares to waste one hour of time has not discovered the value of life. —Charles Darwin.
